

Application for Reach's Summer Teen Open Studio

Summer Teen Open Studio will runs from mid June — mid August (with some additional dates at the end of summer for events and exhibits). If you are applying for Teen Studio, you are committing to participate for the whole summer (not just one or two times). You must complete all of this application to be considered for participation. Space may be limited. You can sign up for either Tuesdays or Wednesdays. If space allows, you may be able to participate on both days.

Teen Studio is FREE, but by signing up to be part of the Open Studio, we ask that, in return, you volunteer time regularly throughout the program by either being a “Counselor in Training” for our summer camp programs (for younger children), serve on the Youth Board (planning and setting up art shows, and other community projects), or help at Reach with cleaning and supply preparations.
